MEDIA RELEASE

December 21, 2007

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Weather Advisory - City of Peterborough

Due to the expected rise in temperatures on Saturday, combined with forecasted rainfall early on Sunday, residents of the City of Peterborough could see localized flooding on some streets due to melting snow and rain accumulation.

The City of Peterborough has a plan to attempt to deal with any problems that may arise from the anticipated change in climate conditions.

The forecast for Sunday evening is a drop in temperature that could cause freezing conditions. These fluctuations in temperatures over the weekend could cause difficulties on roads and sidewalks.

If required, the City of Peterborough will provide additional information via local media.
